Hello

My name is Danyl, I am a Java Developer.

I am interested in your vacancy and have experience with the technologies mentioned there.

Working with Java more around 3 years already. I was working mainly with the backend part, but I have experience with Vue.js as well.

I also have a master's degree in computer science.

Worked with complex microservice systems and followed best development practices.

Also worked with automated testing. The stack was Java + Selenium + TestNG.

My English level is B2, so I think this is a great advantage for work.

My best soft skills are communication, hard work, problem solving and most importantly teamwork.

I will be happy to talk, and I am ready to complete a test task.
